

JULIANA - PALESTINE YOUTH LEADERSHIP

Scholar, August 2018
European Forum Alpbach , Austria

Juliana is enrolled in a master's degree in Human Resource Counselling in Hungary. She also recently served as the Vice-President of the local Youth Council in Bethlehem-Palestine.

The Youth Council creates opportunities for its members to implement initiatives that serve the city and to represent Bethlehem in many local and international events.

Juliana goal's is to use her degree to help others in achieving good well-being and a balanced life in a challenging world using an economical approach.

How did Alpbach inspire you to continue your work as a global citizen?

"In Alpbach, I was exposed to different subjects that I never thought I would like, I participated in new activities that I had never heard about before or wished to do, and now I know the real meaning of diversity and resilience and how these two concepts can affect a person's life if we can just reach the minds of those individuals in the world, promoting peace and justice which is much needed."

-Juliana

"The conference gave me the chance to take my first trip by myself, to gain self-confidence in being part of something huge for the first time and to gain new knowledge about a subject that is very important to me and my studies."

-Juliana
